Choosing Childcare

What is a Family Information Service?

The Family Information Service (FIS) is a free, impartial information and guidance service for parents/carers of children and young people, and the professionals provided by your local authority who work with them. They can provide information, assistance and advice to help you find:

- Childcare
- Children and young people's activities
- Family Support Organisations

The FIS can also provide information on:

- Help with the costs of childcare
- Careers in childcare
- Childcare training

The FIS is your ideal starting point if you have any questions regarding support for your family. Your local FIS will be able to provide you with information tailored to your individual needs. Please contact them directly or visit your local FIS website for further information.

How to contact your FIS?

There is a FIS in every local authority and you can find their contact details on pages 12-14.

The FIS work closely with childcare providers in your area to provide you with accurate and up to date information about what they offer. This booklet takes you through the things you need to consider when choosing childcare and the options that are available to you.

Sections:

1.	How to choose a childcare service	4
2.	Help with the costs of childcare	6
3.	Types of childcare	7

1. How to choose a childcare service

a) Contact as many childcare providers as possible before deciding which one is best for you and your child, and check with your local FIS which providers are registered with the Care and Social Services Inspectorate Wales (CSSIW) – please see section 3.

b) The following questions may be helpful in considering what you are looking for in a childcare service:

- Is it welcoming?
- Are the premises clean?
- Where there is an outside play area, is it safe and secure?
- Do the children appear to be busy, happy and at ease?
- Are the hours when childcare is available suitable for your needs?
- Are meals, snacks, and nappies provided?
- Are healthy food options available?
- Will there be good opportunities for your child to exercise and rest?
- What is the cost?
- Do they have places available for your child?

For more questions to ask, contact your local FIS or visit their website.

See section 6 (pages 12-14) for FIS contact details.

c) Once you have found a childcare service you are happy with, try to have a settling in period with a few short visits for your child and you. This will help you both feel more confident and at ease.

United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC)

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) is an international agreement that protects the human rights of children under the age of 18. It recognises not only their basic rights, but also gives additional rights to protect them from harm as one of the most vulnerable groups in society. All those caring for and working with children and young people have a role in enabling their rights and helping them reach their potential as individuals. Together, all the UNCRC articles contribute to ensuring that children are kept safe, nurtured and treated with respect. The UNCRC also recognises and supports parents' role in bringing up their children.

2. Help with the costs of childcare

Childcare may seem costly, but did you know families may be entitled or eligible for financial help such as:

1. Tax Credits/Universal Credit;
2. Employer-supported childcare, including voucher schemes/ Tax-Free Childcare scheme;
3. Local assisted places and helping hands schemes;
4. Free part-time early education for 3- and 4-year-olds;
5. Flying Start;
6. Parents, Childcare and Employment (PaCE) or Communities for Work if you want help returning to work or training; or
7. Support for Higher and Further Education students.
8. The Childcare Offer for Wales which will be tested in specific areas of some local authorities from September 2017.

Your FIS can provide you with further details and provide you with information about work life balance, Jobcentre Plus and other local programmes.

*For more detailed information please read the leaflet:
Support for parents and financial help with childcare costs.*

3. Types of childcare (registered and unregistered)

Anyone who provides childcare for children under the age of 12 for more than 2 hours a day for reward must be registered with the Care and Social Services Inspectorate Wales (CSSIW).

This section provides a brief description of the types of registered and unregistered childcare provision that are available to you. For more details contact your local FIS (contact details on pages 12-14).

Registered

Childminders

Childminders are childcare providers working in their own homes who may offer full and part time care, including before and after school, wrap around provision, (childcare that schools provide outside of normal school hours, such as breakfast clubs or after school) holiday, evening, overnight or weekend care.

Day Care:

Day care providers may offer full or part time care, wrap around provision, out of school care and holiday provision. They include:

- Day nurseries
- Children's centres
- Family centres
- Playgroups
- Cylchoedd Meithrin
- Out of School Childcare Clubs
- Crèches
- Play schemes
- Open access play

Part-time early education for three- and four-year-olds:

Your child is entitled to a minimum of 10 hours of free, part-time, good-quality Foundation Phase education in a school, or an early education setting approved by your local authority, in the term following their third birthday.

Unregistered

Some childcare options do not have to be registered with CSSIW. These are generally where sessions are run for less than 2 hours a day or where the provider does not receive reward for the childcare, although there are further exceptions. Unregistered childcare can also include:

- au pair services
- babysitting or care provided by friends and family members

If you are in any doubt and wish to check whether registration is required, contact CSSIW for advice. If you use childcare which is not registered or approved you will not be able to claim financial assistance from the UK Government where you would otherwise be eligible.

Childcare at home Voluntary Approval Scheme, Wales:

Anyone, other than a close relative who provides childcare in the child's home may apply to become an approved childcare provider, as long as they:

- are aged 18 or over;
- have a relevant qualification; for advice please contact CSSIW (www.cssiw.org.uk/);
- have a relevant first aid certificate; and
- have received clearance from an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service check.

Call your local FIS for more information on the approval of childcare workers in your home and how to access any related financial support from the UK Government you may be eligible to receive.

Please note the Childcare at home Voluntary Approval Scheme in Wales is an approved scheme.

Although it does not include registration, you may be eligible to claim financial support from the UK Government, subject to your specific circumstances and relevant scheme criteria.

4. National Minimum Standards

All settings which are regulated by the Care and Social Services Inspectorate Wales (CSSIW) need to comply with National Minimum Standards for Regulated Child Care. You can access the document by visiting the link below:

<http://cssiw.org.uk/docs/cssiw/publications/160411regchildcareen.pdf>

5. Childcare for All

Your local Family Information Service can support you to find childcare in your area for your child's needs.

Individual needs

It will also have information about how to access help to cover childcare costs. Referral schemes across Wales help children with additional needs to attend playgroups/cylchoedd meithrin and other types of childcare with other children of the same age.

Accessibility

All childcare providers must meet the requirements of the Equality Act 2010 and make reasonable adjustments to include disabled children. They must not treat a disabled child less favourably than a non-disabled child because of any impairment or health condition. You can phone the Equality Advisory Support Service (EASS) on 0808 800 0082 for advice or information.
